Black Men It's Time To Help Our Young Black Males Breakfast Hosted By Team Black Males Winning

A Man's Man Breakfast is a wrapup of a Team BMW 24-hour marathon in Metro Atlanta to address the epidemic of young black males killing one another. Bruce C Carter and Romeo Miller team BMW leaders are calling on celebrities, influencers, elected officials, law enforcement, educators, and concerned parents to get engaged.

A Man's Man Breakfast is for men who have a servant's heart, are confident in themselves, and are not afraid of young black males. The breakfast will introduce solutions, opportunities, and an extensive plan to provide hope for black males ages 12-26. "Where there is no hope, there will be no civility." Bruce C Carter

Young Black males starting at the age of 12 are being killed or killing one another regularly in urban, rural, and suburban communities with the behavior increasing every year. Many factors are floating around such as music, absentee fathers, and the man but very few solutions are being implemented to address the issue. We must stop being reactive and become proactive because it will eventually reach our doorstep directly or indirectly. "Which person is worse, the one who created the problem? Or the one who knows of the problem but does nothing to fix it?" Bruce C Carter
