Black Men Are Preparing To Leverage Politics To Reduce Senseless Violence Among Young Black Males through Opportunities

Romeo Miller AKA “Little Romeo” and Bruce C Carter, a national youth advocate and VIOLENCE PREVENTION SOLUTIONIST, will launch Team Black Males Winning, a national platform to reduce senseless violence in urban cores and develop productive fathers. Romeo once a child star in music and acting has become a young man of destiny and purpose while Bruce C Carter has dedicated roughly two decades to serving America’s children. Mr. Carter has mentored over 500,000 youth across America and is a Presidential Lifetime Achievement Award Recipient.

Team Black Males Winning (Team BMW)) is a unique initiative that culminates 12 years of rigorous research, trials, and studies based on primary data. It aims to combat issues like senseless killings, absent fathers, and generations of hopelessness by empowering black males ages 12 to 26 willing to stand on business who are in middle school, high school, or college, a dropout, in the streets, or a gang member you are tired of seeing your mom struggle, feel like nobody cares about you, want to own a business, and are ready to secure the bag.

Team BMW will launch the Black Males Challenge 2024 to see who cares about the progress of young black males within cities in battleground states like Atlanta, Milwaukee, Detroit, and Pennsylvania. Young black males aged 12 and up are being killed with no effective plan from elected officials, churches, self-proclaimed leaders, organizations, or parents. “Black Males and their supporters will decide which political party wins Nov 5th, 2024”. Bruce C Carter
